Changes of the declaration without revision before the expiry of the period of validity (New logos, text passages, addresses...)	Euro	700,00
Changes in product databases for construction materials see 2)
Any individual solutions such as IT-based EPD calculators, which induce extraordinary consulting and verification effort, as well as foreign language versions (if not English) of declarations and other extraordinary consultation services are to be agreed and invoiced separately

4) Declaration fees for the first declaration

The declaration fees take the form of sliding scales and are allocated to the various contribution groups. The clients are split into ordinary companies -including marketing and sales companies and corporate groups- [contribution groups F1-F7] and associations and other similar groupings [contribution groups V1-V7].

The declaration fees can be paid as a one-time amount after successful verification or, alternatively, be paid in 5 instalments (= validity period of an EPD). The payment method preferred must be communicated with the order.

Upon submission of an application for niche products by SMEs (small- and medium-sized enterprises), the management board may set lower fees in individual cases. This can also be done for very small associations.

² The fee is calculated for one dataset (results for ONE product dataset or ONE average value dataset resulting from ONE project report/background report). Individual synergy discounts based on expense incurred upon submission of more than one dataset in one EPD document (similar products) or submission of more than one EPD document at the same time by the same manufacturer can be granted and must be agreed upon separately.

³ The annual declaration fees are payable in advance. In case of the first declaration the annual fee is payable on a pro rata basis.

⁴ The level of fee payable depends on total turnover, not just on that of building products declared as such. The classification of an association depends on the total turnover of its member companies. The applicant is obliged to notify the Bau EPD GmbH of its total turnover and the corresponding contribution group. Should the management board have any doubts regarding the contribution group indicated, it may estimate the contribution group and prescribe the membership fee payable. If the applicant lodges an objection to this, the objection must be substantiated by way of declarations from auditors/tax consultants, the submission of a sales tax statement or similar. In case of an extension after 5 years up-to-date data must be provided, and the contribution group may be reclassified.
